
CALL FOR PAPERS

IEEE CG&A invites articles for special issue on art and animation, plus color pictures for special gallery section

Articles are now welcome for the special art and animation issue (July 1985) of IEEE Computer Graphics and Applications. Appropriate topics include (but are not limited to) systems for artists dealing with image generation and object synthesis, animation, and languages; the use of AI techniques and the criteria for the evaluation of art and animation; the theoretical and practical aspects of computer animation and computer-assisted animation systems, both 2-D and 3-D; experimental and/or personal techniques in use by fine artists; case studies of the use of existing systems by illustrators, as well as proposals of new methodologies for computer-aided illustration; systems and concepts that encourage user evolution. Manuscripts must be submitted by January 31, 1985.

A special picture gallery is also planned for this July 1985 issue. The gallery will be devoted to exceptional examples of computer art and art/animation. Slides for this gallery must be presented by March 15, 1985.

Submit manuscripts (six copies, please) and/or slides for the picture gallery to the co-guest editors, Charles Csuri and Tom DeFanti. The mailing address is Charles Csuri, Cranston Center, 1501 Neil Avenue, Columbus, Ohio 43201.

IEEE CG&A also invites articles for other 1985 issues. General subject areas include expert systems in computer graphics, surface modeling, graphics engines, new display technology, graphics database management, and technical documentation/electronic publishing.

In addition, we invite articles on any aspect of computer graphics and its applications. Articles reflecting user's experience and practice, survey articles, and tutorial articles—as well as technical articles based on theory and research—are welcome.

Watch upcoming issues for calls for papers for special issues on the above or other topics. Meanwhile, prospective authors may obtain information sheets by writing or phoning Susan Cote, IEEE CG&A, 10662 Los Vaqueros Circle, Los Alamitos, CA 90720; (714) 821-8380.

Manuscripts or article proposals (for other than special issues) can be submitted to Lansing Hatfield, Associate Editor-in-Chief, Lawrence Livermore Nat'l. Lab., PO Box 5504, L-156, Livermore, CA 94550.
