IN THE above article [1], unfortunately, there was a printing error in Fig. 11(b). This error affects the correct frame difference (FD) operation with Fig. 11(a) for generating the motion vector image in Fig. 11(c), but had no influence on the discussion and conclusion in the article. The correct Fig. 11 is given as below.

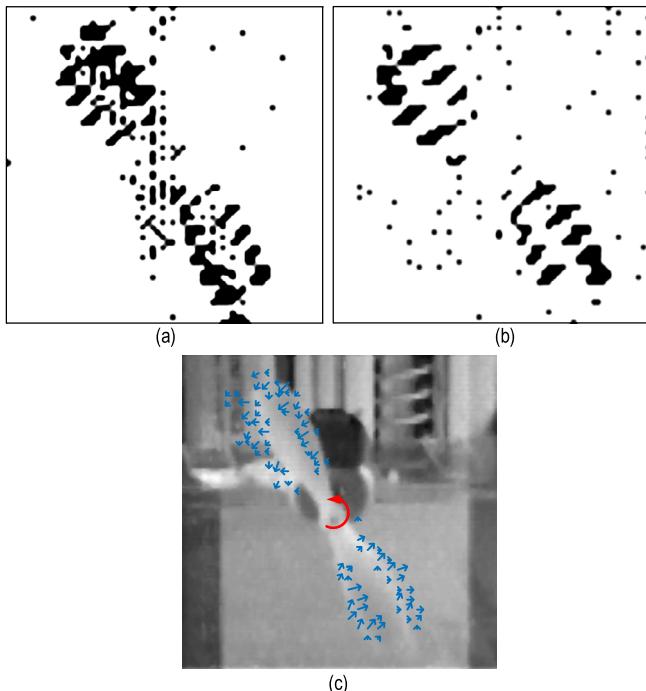

Fig. 11. Measurement results of the motion vectors of a rotating fan: (a) the first FD image; (b) the second FD image; and (c) the extracted motion vectors combining the two FD images.
